If you double-click the "Disappearing Man" gif (seperate file) it should open in your web browser and move every few seconds.

Disappearing Man position one. (13 men)

People tend to point to this fellow as the one who goes missing, but both guys with black shirts are still there after the move.

Disappearing Man position two. (12 men)

He moved here and is still counted.

The three parts for printing and cutting out. (I wrapped it around and taped it to pieces of cardboard for easier handling)
