.-- "We know all Glasgow. things work cogether for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. For whom he did foreknow he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son; that he might be the firstborn among many brethren" (Ro mans viii, 28, 29).

Coming to the land of that sturdy man of God, John Knox, I am reminded of his able contention for the doctrine of Election-its Scripturalness and its demonstration of the greatness, majesty and sovereignty of the Lord our God. We surmise, however, that the good man's heart must frequently have been sorely distressed with the logic of his own argument; that the eternal woe of nine-tenths of our race was as unalterably fixed in advance of their birth as was the eternal joy of the blessed handful predestinated to be saints and to share the heavenly glories. We may well thank God, dear friends, that in the clearer light now shining upon the Scriptures we may discern the errors handed down to us from the dark ages, without losing our appreciation of Divine foreknowledge and Divine sovereignty.

While it is true that it would be difficult to estimate the value of the doctrine of Divine foreknowledge taught by Brother Knox, not only in this nation, but also throughout the world, inculcating a reverence for the Almighty. it is also true that it would be difficult to estimate the amount of damage which has resulted to Christendom and throughout the world from his teachings respecting the Divine treatment of the non-elect. This serious error has alienated the hearts of thousand from God and from his Book. Let us look together at the doctrines of Election, Predestination and Foreordination, from the Scriptural standpoint. that we may note their beauties and be drawn the nearer to the Lord and to his Book in true reverence and worship.

Foreknown and Predestinated.

Our text declares that whom God did foreknow them he also did predestinate: but we notice that the predestination is stated only as respects the Church and not in respect to others. This fact does in the morning of the Resurrection. Thank Ged, then, for the rolling away of the mists of darkness and error which permits us to see in the Bible that the "common salvation," God's provision for the world will be a Restitution, a restoration to human perfection in the rejuvenated earth, a world-wide Paradise! Thank God for the promises to the effect that then "the knowledge of the glory of God shall fill the whole earth as the waters cover the great deep" and that "the Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in his beams;" that "nothing shall hurt or destroy or injure in all God's holy Kingdom;" that "the way faring man, though simple, need not err therein," and that a broad high way shall be there as a way of salva tion-a much traveled way-and that all the redeemed of the Lord shall be privileged to go up thereon out of sin and death conditions to conditions of life everlasting. We thank God. too, that those who shall re fuse to make proper progress and shall fall of that "common salvation" because of willful sin will not be permitted to live endlessly in sin, nor in torment, but will be utterly destroyed in the Second Death; because God is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna, the Second Death. We thank God also that the elect Church, under Christ, the Captain of their salvation, are promised a share in that glorious work of the Redeemer, in blessing all the families of the earth in bringing to them that common (general) salvation

"Whom He Did Foreknow."

It is not for us to quibble respecting the Divine power of foreknowledgeto question the ability of our Creator, to have foreknown, had he chosen to do so, and foretold every member of the elect class. The Divine is so far above the human that it is impossible for the human mind to measure the infinite or to comprehend his power. We must merely accept the Divine statement. However, nothing in the Word of God tells us that we were foreknown individually -- personally. Rather the intimation is that God predestinated the election of a Church, predetermined the number of persons who would be accepted as members of that Church, the Body of Christ, predetermined what characters they must have and what tests of character would be necessary to demonstrate their loyalty and to prove the individual worthy a place in the foreordained class.

It is in full harmony with this that we read that many are called to the few who will be chosen, and that again we are exhorted to "make our calling and our election sure." We are assured that "Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it"-do all that he has promised—keep his part of the contract. This being so, all of the called ones have the determining of results in their own cases. God is faithful. If they are faithful at heart to the terms and conditions of their Covenant they will be of the elect-otherwise not.

"He Also Did Predestinate."

We come now to the particular clause of our text which has seemed to fortify the error. "Them he also did predestinate." Ah. say many, that fixes it! There is no option, nothing dependent upon it. God predestinated everything. Not so, we answer. In the past we have been prone to read our text disconnectedly and thus doing ings and honors, this would imply that were to be tortured eternally. The calling." The thought is that we are logic of this position is unsound and called to a very high honor and wonit is quite unscriptural to say, that all of the non-elect will be consigned to an eternity of torture at the hands of fireproof demons in fulfillment of a Divine predestination fixed before creation. There is no Scripture whatever to this effect, and Brother Knox and others were in error to the extent that they wove into their theories matters not Scripturally stated.

According to the Scriptures, as well as according to human judgment as expressed in the laws of civilization, the highest, the severest penalty to be enforced, is the death penalty, the taking away of the life not used in harmony with the Creator's reasonable, righteous requirements This is the Scriptural declaration to which, for so long a time. we were blind: "The wages of sin is death;" "The soul that sinneth, it shall die;" "All the wicked will he destroy;" "They shall perish as brute beasts;" "They shall be destroyed with an everlasting destruction" (the Second Death). -Romans vi, 23; Ezekiel xviii, 4; Psalm cxlv, 20; II Peter ii, 12; II Thessalonians i, 9.

Thus seen the very severest results possible to non-election would be extinction-the Second Death. But the Scriptures clearly show that God has gracious purposes, not for the "elect" only, but also for the non-elect, and that in his due time the non-elect shall be brought to a clearer knowledge of the Truth and to a full opportunity of harmony with their Creator and through Christ Jesus the re-attainment of all that was lost in Adam, all that was redeemed by the precious sacrifice of Christ. Thus, as the Scriptures declare, there is a "common salvation" (Jude 3) in which all of Adam's children shall be privileged to have a share. There is also a special salvation, a "high calling" of God in Christ, which is referred to as "so great salvation which began to be (preached) spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him." (Heb. Ii, This special or great salvation is the one which our Lord has provided for the "Elect," while the "common salvation" is his provision for the nonelect.

it not seem strange that Does Brother Knox and others, his coadjutors, in getting away from much of the smoke of the "dark ages," failed to even think of a salvation of the non-elect as a part of God's providence? Their eyes, beholding the awful and blighting errors respecting eternal torment, totally blinded them to God's provisions for the non-elect; for they reasoned that if God had predestinated them to eternal torment and had advance of their creation prepared a great place of torture and fre-proof devils and fuel enough for eteraity, Point on the charge of hazing a follow cadet will perhaps attract of sympathy from a certain clas or conversant with conditions exist ing at the academy but it will mee with the approval of the majority who take any interest in the nationa training school.

Beery large school or universit; has been troubled in the past by the tice of hazing which has prerating among the upper class who have delighted to torment the tirst year students in various ways At fir at this practice was confined to ing harmings practical jokes, but gradually it erounded until it be come brutal and even deadly. Stu dents were crippled for life and a number of cases were pocorder the victims of the practic wern either killed outright or re ceived influries which resulted in on again we are glad the capture their death. The practice became so was made by forces who have no ant that the authorities were desire to take it across seas. prevalent that the autornices were formed to take active measures to suppress it and it has been blotted out in the majority of the larger schools. At West Point, the previou of lightly has been handed down from generation to generation of et and almost every graduate of same conditions which prevailed at the larger colleges have bee and at the military academy al though the offense has been intensi fied by the close discipline which vails there and the fact that me indulging in the practice are guilt; of a double infraction of the rules. In the present case, the cudets have been caught red handed. They convicted of stealing from their quarters at night after tays had been sounded this in itself being a ious infraction of the rules. Then they fell upon a sentry from the first or piebe class and when he re beat him so that he was com nelled to seek medical attention and contined to the hospital for a time. Having been convicted it was sary to trake an example of the guilty parties as a light penalty would only encourage others to per sist in the practice and to disreg all rules. The United States military acadamey is a training school for future officers of the United Stat s army and in the event the not taught to respect rules and discipline, it is folly to exect them to do their duty when assigned to a command. While the dismissal of the cadels m the scademy may seem to be an excessive punishment there is no question but that this course is nec essary to preserve order at the institution and to instill respect for rules and military regulations into the minds of the future officers.

TRUTH No. 5.

There are two sure roads to wealth.

One is by inheritance and the other by investment.

The man who INHERITS a large sum of money or property which yields him a goodly return is to be congratulated. BUT

The man to be doubly congratulated is the INVESTOR-the WISE INVESTOR-who recognizes the opportunity to place his cash, whatever the sum may be, where it will bring him safe, sure and good returns.

The history of America—in fact of the world—shows that the greatest fortunes have been made in oil. California, prodigally rich in this mineral, has made within the past three years fortunes for those shrewd enough to invest in oil lands and stocks. The producing of this product has been in the past, is now, and will continue to be a still greater factor as an investment than anything known at present in the country.

You are afforded an opportunity to invest your savings or surplus funds in an oil company that promises to reap large returns. Never before, and probably never again, will you have the same chance. Stock is now selling at 40 cents per share, and in order to secure it at this price we urge haste on your part. Fill out the attached blank and mail at once.
