41      *Worship Jehovah During Youth

(Ecclesiastes 12:1)

- 1. Precious to God are you daughters and sons;
Great his affection for you, our dear ones.
Loving attention to you he extends
Through us, your parents, your fam'ly, and friends.
- 2. Honor your parents who care for your life,
Giving no cause for contention or strife.
If you gain favor with God and with men,
Days of your youth will be happiest then.
- 3. Always remember your God in your youth;
Grow ever stronger in love of the truth.
By your devotion to God you will bring Joy to the heart of Jehovah, our King.

Ecclesiastes 7-12

7 A good name is better than good oil, and the day of death is better than the day of birth. 2 Better to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting, for that is the end of every man, and the living should take it to heart. 3 Better is distress than laughter, for the sadness of the face makes the heart better. 4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of the stupid is in the house of rejoicing.

5 Better to listen to a wise man's rebuke than to listen to the song of fools. 6 For as the crackling of thorns burning under the pot, so is the laughter of the fool; and this too is futility. 7 But oppression can drive the wise one into madness, and a bribe corrupts the heart.

8 Better is the end of a matter than its beginning. Better to be patient than to be haughty in spirit. 9 Do not be quick to take offense, for the taking of offense lodges in the bosom of fools.

10 Do not say, "Why were the former days better than these?" for it is not out of wisdom that you ask this.

11 Wisdom together with an inheritance is a good thing and an advantage to those who see the light of day. 12 For wisdom is a protection just as money is a protection, but the advantage of knowledge is this: Wisdom preserves the life of its owner.

<sup>13</sup> Consider the work of the true God, for who can straighten out what he has made crooked? <sup>14</sup> On a good day, reflect this goodness, but on the day of adversity, consider that God made the one as well as the other, so that men cannot be certain of anything that will happen to them in the future.

<sup>15</sup> During my futile life I have seen everything—from the righteous one who perishes in his righteousness to the wicked one who lives long despite his badness.

<sup>16</sup> Do not be overly righteous, nor show yourself excessively wise. Why should you bring ruin to yourself? <sup>17</sup> Do not be excessively wicked, nor be foolish. Why should you die before your time? <sup>18</sup> It is best to grasp one warning without letting go of the other; for the one who fears God will heed them both.

<sup>19</sup> Wisdom makes a wise man more powerful than ten strong men in a city. <sup>20</sup> For there is no righteous man on earth who always does good and never sins.

<sup>21</sup> Also, do not take to heart every word that people say; otherwise, you may hear your servant calling down evil on you; <sup>22</sup> for you well know in your heart that many times you yourself have called down evil on others.

<sup>23</sup> All of this I tested with wisdom, and I said: “I will become wise.” But it was beyond me. <sup>24</sup> What has come to be is out of reach and exceedingly deep. Who can understand it? <sup>25</sup> I directed my heart to know and to explore and to search for wisdom and the reason behind things, and to understand the wickedness of stupidity and the folly of madness. <sup>26</sup> Then I discovered this: More bitter than death is the woman who is like a hunter's net, whose heart is like dragnets, and whose hands are like prison chains. The one who pleases the true God will escape her, but the sinner is captured by her.

<sup>27</sup> "See, this is what I found," says the congregator. "I investigated one thing after another to reach my conclusion, <sup>28</sup> but what I continually sought, I have not found. One man out of a thousand I found, but a woman among them I have not found. <sup>29</sup> This alone I have found: The true God made mankind upright, but they have sought out many schemes."

8 Who is like the wise man? Who knows the solution to a problem? A man's wisdom lights up his face and softens his stern appearance.

<sup>2</sup> I say: "Obey the king's orders out of regard for the oath to God. <sup>3</sup> Do not rush to depart from his presence. Do not take a stand for anything bad; for he can do whatever he pleases, <sup>4</sup> because the word of the king is absolute; who can say to him, 'What are you doing?'"

<sup>5</sup> The one who observes the commandment will not experience harm, and the wise heart will know the right time and procedure. <sup>6</sup> For every matter there is a time and procedure, because the troubles of mankind are so abundant. <sup>7</sup> Since no one knows what will happen, who can tell him how it will happen?

<sup>8</sup> Just as no man has power over the spirit or can restrain the spirit, so no one has power over the day of death. Just as no one is discharged during a war, so wickedness will not allow those who practice it to escape.

<sup>9</sup> All of this I have seen, and I applied my heart to every work that has been done under the sun, during the time that man has dominated man to his harm.

<sup>10</sup> And I saw the wicked being buried, those who used to go in and out of the holy place, but they were soon forgotten in the city where they acted that way. This too is futility.

<sup>11</sup> Because sentence against a bad deed has not been executed speedily, the heart of men becomes emboldened to do bad. <sup>12</sup> Although a sinner may do bad a hundred times and still live a long time, yet I am aware that it will turn out well for those who fear the true God, because they fear him. <sup>13</sup> But it will not turn out well for the wicked one, nor will he prolong his days that are like a shadow, because he does not fear God.

<sup>14</sup> There is something futile that takes place on the earth: There are righteous people who are treated as if they had acted wickedly, and there are wicked people who are treated as if they had acted righteously. I say that this too is futility.

<sup>15</sup> So I recommended rejoicing, because there is nothing better for man under the sun than to eat and drink and rejoice; this should accompany him as he works hard during the days of his life, which the true God gives him under the sun.

<sup>16</sup> I applied my heart to acquire wisdom and to see all the activity happening on the earth, even going without sleep day and night. <sup>17</sup> Then I considered all the work of the true God, and I realized that mankind cannot comprehend what happens under the sun. No matter how hard men try, they cannot comprehend it. Even if they claim that they are wise enough to know, they cannot really comprehend it.

9 So I took all of this to heart and concluded that the righteous and the wise, as well as their works, are in the hands of the true God. Men are not aware of the love and the hate that took place prior to them. <sup>2</sup> All have the very same outcome, the righteous and the wicked, the good and the clean and the unclean, those sacrificing and those not sacrificing. The good one is the same as the sinner; the one who swears an oath is the same as the one who is cautious about swearing an oath. <sup>3</sup> This is a distressing thing that happens under the sun: Because all have the same outcome, the heart of humans is also full of bad; and there is madness in their heart during their life, and then they die!

<sup>4</sup> There is hope for whoever is among the living, because a live dog is better off than a dead lion. <sup>5</sup> For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing at all, nor do they have any more reward, because all memory of them is forgotten. <sup>6</sup> Also, their love and their hate and their jealousy have already perished, and they no longer have any share in what is done under the sun.

<sup>7</sup> Go, eat your food with rejoicing, and drink your wine with a cheerful heart, for already the true God has found pleasure in your works. <sup>8</sup> May your clothing always be white, and do not fail to put oil on your head. <sup>9</sup> Enjoy life with your beloved wife all the days of your futile life, which He has given you under the sun, all the days of your futility, for that is your lot in life and in your hard work at which you toil under the sun. <sup>10</sup> Whatever your hand finds to do, do with all your might, for there is no work nor planning nor knowledge nor wisdom in the Grave, where you are going.

nor do the intelligent always have the riches, nor do those with knowledge always have success, because time and unexpected events overtake them all. <sup>12</sup> For man does not know his time. Just as fish are caught in an evil net and birds are caught in a trap, so the sons of men are ensnared in a time of disaster, when it suddenly overtakes them.

<sup>13</sup> I also observed this about wisdom under the sun—and it impressed me: <sup>14</sup> There was a small city with a few men in it; and a mighty king came against it and surrounded it and built great siegeworks against it. <sup>15</sup> In it was found a poor but wise man, and he saved the city by his wisdom. But no one remembered that poor man. <sup>16</sup> And I said to myself: ‘Wisdom is better than mightiness; yet a poor man’s wisdom is despised, and his words are not heeded.’

<sup>18</sup> Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but just one sinner can destroy much good.

10 As dead flies cause the perfumer’s oil to stink and bubble, so a little foolishness outweighs wisdom and glory.

<sup>2</sup> The heart of the wise one leads him in the right way, but the heart of the stupid one leads him in the wrong way. <sup>3</sup> In whatever way the fool walks, he is lacking good sense, and he lets everyone know that he is a fool.

<sup>4</sup> If the anger of a ruler should flare up against you, do not leave your place, for calmness allays great sins.

<sup>5</sup> There is something distressing that I have seen under the sun, the sort of mistake made by those in power: <sup>6</sup> Foolishness is put in many high positions, but the rich remain in low positions.

<sup>8</sup> The one who digs a pit may fall into it; and the one who breaks through a stone wall may be bitten by a snake.

<sup>9</sup> The one who quarries stones may be hurt by them, and the one who splits logs may be endangered by them.

<sup>10</sup> If an iron tool is dull and one does not sharpen its edge, he will need to exert much effort. But wisdom helps to achieve success.

<sup>11</sup> If the snake bites before it is charmed, there is no advantage to the skilled charmer.

<sup>12</sup> The words from the mouth of the wise one bring favor, but the lips of the stupid one are his ruin. <sup>13</sup> The first words out of his mouth are foolishness, and his last words are disastrous madness. <sup>14</sup> But the fool keeps on speaking.

A man does not know what will happen; who can tell him what will come after him?

<sup>15</sup> The hard work of the stupid one wears him out, for he does not even know how to find his way to the city.

<sup>18</sup> Because of extreme laziness the roof beams sag, and because of idle hands the house leaks.

<sup>19</sup> Bread is made for laughter, and wine makes life enjoyable; but money answers every need.

<sup>20</sup> Even in your thoughts, do not curse the king, and do not curse the rich in your bedroom; for a bird may convey the sound, or a creature with wings may repeat what was said.

11 Cast your bread on the waters, for after many days you will find it again. <sup>2</sup> Give a share to seven or even to eight, for you do not know what disaster will occur on the earth.

<sup>3</sup> If the clouds are filled with water, they will pour down rain on the earth; and if a tree falls to the south or to the north, the place where the tree falls is where it will lie.

<sup>4</sup> The one who watches the wind will not sow seed, and the one who looks at the clouds will not reap.

<sup>5</sup> Just as you do not know how the spirit operates in the bones of the child inside a pregnant woman, so you do not know the work of the true God, who does all things.

<sup>6</sup> Sow your seed in the morning and do not let your hand rest until the evening; for you do not know which will have success, whether this one or that one, or whether they will both do well.

<sup>7</sup> Light is sweet, and it is good for the eyes to see the sun. <sup>8</sup> For if a man should live many years, let him enjoy them all. But he should remember that the days of darkness may be many; all that is to come is futility.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice, young man, while you are young, and let your heart be glad in the days of your youth. Follow the ways of your heart and go where your eyes lead you; but know that the true God will bring you into judgment for all these things. <sup>10</sup> So remove troublesome things from your heart, and ward off harmful things from your body, for youth and the prime of life are futility.

12 Remember, then, your Grand Creator in the days of your youth, before the days of distress come and the years arrive when you will say: “I have no pleasure in them”; <sup>2</sup> before the sun and the light and the moon and the stars grow dark, and the clouds return after the downpour; <sup>3</sup> in the day when the guards of the house become shaky, and the strong men stoop over, and the women quit grinding because they have become few, and the ladies looking out the windows find it dark; <sup>4</sup> when the doors to the street have been closed, when the sound of the grinding mill becomes low, when one gets up at the sound of a bird, and all the daughters of song grow faint. <sup>5</sup> Also, one is afraid of heights, and there are terrors in the street. And the almond tree blossoms, and the grasshopper drags itself along, and the caper berry bursts, because man is walking to his lasting house and the mourners walk about in the street; <sup>6</sup> before the silver cord is removed, and the golden bowl is crushed, and the jar at the spring is broken, and the waterwheel for the cistern is crushed. <sup>7</sup> Then the dust returns to the earth, just as it was, and the spirit returns to the true God who gave it.

<sup>9</sup> Not only had the congregator become wise but he continually taught the people what he knew, and he pondered and made a thorough search in order to compile many proverbs. <sup>10</sup> The congregator sought to find delightful words and to record accurate words of truth.

<sup>11</sup> The words of the wise are like oxgoads, and their collected sayings are like firmly embedded nails; they have been given from one shepherd. <sup>12</sup> As for anything besides these, my son, be warned: To the making of many books there is no end, and much devotion to them is wearisome to the flesh.

<sup>13</sup> The conclusion of the matter, everything having been heard, is: Fear the true God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole obligation of man. <sup>14</sup> For the true God will judge every deed, including every hidden thing, as to whether it is good or bad.

Treasures From God's Word

“Remember . . . Your Grand Creator in the Days of Your Youth”

Ecclesiastes 12:1—Youths should use their time and energy in God's service

Reference: w14 1/15 18 paragraph 3.

Youth is a time for making important choices. But one choice is more important than all others—your decision to serve Jehovah. When is the best time to make that choice? Jehovah says: “Remember . . . your Grand Creator in the days of your youth.” (Ecclesiastes 12:1) The only acceptable way to “remember” Jehovah is to serve him fully. (Deuteronomy 10:12) Your decision to serve God with all your heart is the most important choice you will ever make. It will shape your entire future. —Psalm 71:5.

Reference: w14 1/15 22 paragraph 1.

King Solomon was inspired to address young people with the words: “Remember . . . your Grand Creator in the days of your youth, before the days of distress come.” What are “the days of distress”? Solomon used intriguing poetic language to describe the calamitous days of old age—trembling hands, unsteady legs, loss of teeth, dim vision, poor hearing, white hair, and a bent frame. No one should plan on waiting until he arrives at that stage in life before starting to serve Jehovah. —Read Ecclesiastes 12:1-5.

Ecclesiastes 12:2-7—Youths are not limited by “the days of distress” that come with old age

Reference: w08 11/15 23 paragraph 2.

Ecclesiastes chapter 12 paints a vivid picture of “the calamitous days” that accompany old age in the case of imperfect humans. (Read Ecclesiastes 12:1-7.)

White hair is compared to the blossom of “the almond tree.” Legs are likened to “men of vital energy” that now bend and totter. Ladies who go to a window in search of light and find only darkness are a fitting illustration of dimming eyesight. Since some teeth are missing, “the grinding women have quit working because they have become few.”

Reference: w06 11/1 16 paragraph 9.

Young people are accountable to Jehovah. Therefore, they should use their time and energy in God’s service before old age robs them of their vigor.

Ecclesiastes 12:13, 14—Serving Jehovah is the best way to give your life meaning Reference: w11 11/1 21 paragraphs 1-6.

Draw Close to God—Fulfilling Our Obligation to God

Have you ever wondered, ‘What is the purpose of life?’ Jehovah endowed us with not only the capacity to ask such a question but also the deep, inner need to know the answer. Thankfully, our loving God has not left us in the dark. The answer we yearn for is in his Word, the Bible. Consider the words of King Solomon found at Ecclesiastes 12:13.

Solomon was in a unique position. He could well comment on how to find happiness and meaning in life. Blessed with extraordinary wisdom, enormous wealth, and kingly authority, he was able to make a careful search of human pursuits, including the quest for riches and prominence. (Ecclesiastes 2:4-9; 4:4) Then, under divine inspiration, he summed up his findings, saying: “The conclusion of the matter, everything having been heard, is: Fear the true God and keep his commandments. For this is the whole obligation of man.” Those words outline the most rewarding and noble human endeavor.

“Fear the true God.” The idea of fearing God might not seem appealing at first. But this fear is a healthy disposition of heart. We might think not of a slave who is terrified of enraging a harsh master but of a child who is eager to please a loving father. One reference work says that fear of God is the “attitude of reverence and awe that His people show to Him because they love Him and respect His power and His greatness.” Such an attitude moves us to submit to God’s will because we love him and we know that he loves us. This wholesome fear is not just a feeling; it is manifested by actions. How so?

“Keep his commandments.” Fear of God moves us to obey him. It makes sense to give Jehovah our obedience. As our Maker, he knows the best way for us to live, just as a manufacturer knows the best way to use its product. In addition, Jehovah has our best interests at heart. He wants us to be happy, and his requirements are designed to promote our well-being. (Isaiah 48:17) The apostle John put it this way: “This is what the love of God means, that we observe his commandments; and yet his commandments are not burdensome.” (1 John 5:3) Our obedience demonstrates our love for God, and his commandments reflect his love for us.

“This is the whole obligation of man.” These words highlight an important reason to fear God and obey him. Doing so is our obligation, our duty. Jehovah is our Creator, so we owe our very life to him. (Psalm 36:9) We also owe him our obedience. When we live as he wants us to live, we are fulfilling our obligation. What, then, is the purpose of life? Put simply, it is this: We are here to do God's will. There is no better way to fill your life with meaning. Why not find out more about Jehovah's will and how you can bring your life into harmony with it? Jehovah's Witnesses would be pleased to assist you.

Digging for Spiritual Gems

Ecclesiastes 10:1—How is it that “a little foolishness outweighs wisdom”?

Reference: w06 11/1 16 paragraph 5.

We must be careful about our speech and actions. Just one indiscretion, such as an angry outburst, one act of the misuse of alcohol, or an incident involving unchaste sexual behavior, is enough to ruin the good reputation of a respected person.

Ecclesiastes 11:1—What does it mean to “cast your bread on the waters”?

Reference: w06 11/1 16 paragraph 7.

We should practice wholehearted generosity. It begets generosity. —Luke 6:38.

“THE WORD OF GOD IS ALIVE”

<sup>18</sup> From what we have considered in this chapter, it is clear that the Bible is truly a unique book. Yet, its value extends far beyond its internal harmony, scientific and historical accuracy, practical wisdom, and reliable prophecy. The Christian apostle Paul wrote: “The word of God is alive and exerts power and is sharper than any two-edged sword and pierces even to the dividing of soul and spirit, and of joints and their marrow, and is able to discern thoughts and intentions of the heart.”—Hebrews 4:12.

<sup>19</sup> Reading God’s “word,” or message, in the Bible

* The destruction of Babylon is just one example of fulfilled Bible prophecy. Other examples include the destruction of Tyre and Nineveh. (Ezekiel 26:1-5; Zephaniah 2:13-15) Also, Daniel’s prophecy foretold a succession of world empires that would come into power after Babylon. These included Medo-Persia and Greece. (Daniel 8:5-7, 20-22) See the Appendix, pages 254-6, for a discussion of the many Messianic prophecies that were fulfilled in Jesus Christ.

can change our life. It can help us to examine ourselves as never before. We may claim to love God, but how we react to what his inspired Word, the Bible, teaches will reveal our true thoughts, even the very intentions of the heart.

<sup>20</sup> The Bible truly is a book from God. It is a book that is to be read, studied, and loved. Show your gratitude for this divine gift by continuing to peer into its contents. As you do so, you will gain a deep appreciation of God's purpose for mankind. Just what that purpose is and how it will be realized will be discussed in the following chapter.

95 “Taste and See That Jehovah Is Good”

(Psalm 34:8)

1. Our service to God we cherish;
We value our priv’lege to preach.
We buy out the time and give God our best,
For many we still need to reach.

(CHORUS)

*God’s Word invites us: ‘Come taste and see—
See that Jehovah is good.’
Godly devotion brings greatest gain,
We know we’ve done all we could.*

2. For those in the full-time service,
Rich blessings and treasures abound.
By trusting in God to care for their needs,
In all things contentment is found.

(Chorus)

Youths—Do Not Delay Going Through the “Large Door”

It can be easy to think that the days of our youth will continue indefinitely and that we will never experience “the days of distress” that accompany old age in Satan’s world. (Ec 12:1) If you are a youth, can you assume that you have plenty of time to pursue spiritual goals such as the full-time ministry?

“Unexpected events overtake” us all, including those who are young. (Ec 9:11) “You do not know what your life will be like tomorrow.” (Jas 4:14) Therefore, do not put spiritual pursuits on hold unnecessarily. Go through the “large door that leads to activity” while it is still open to you. (1Co 16:9) You will not regret it.

Some possible spiritual goals:

- Pioneer service
- Attending theocratic schools
- Construction service

Prepared to Bear and Exalt God’s Name

<sup>7</sup> God’s servants in modern times have used God’s name in their publications since the 1870’s. For instance, Zion’s Watch Tower of August 1879 and Songs of the Bride, a songbook published that same year, mention the name Jehovah. Still, it seems that before Jehovah allowed his people to call themselves publicly by his sacred name, he saw to it that they met the requirements for that grand privilege. How did Jehovah prepare those early Bible Students to become bearers of his name?

<sup>8</sup> In looking back at the late 1800’s and early 1900’s, we see how Jehovah gave his people a clearer understanding of important truths related to his name. Let us consider three of these truths.

<sup>9</sup> First, Jehovah’s servants came to have the proper view of the importance of God’s name. Faithful early

7, 8. (a) Why did it take time before God’s people could bear his name? (b) What will we now consider?

9, 10. (a) Why did early Watch Tower articles focus on Jesus? (b) What change occurred from 1919 onward, and with what results? (See also the box “How The Watchtower Has Exalted God’s Name.”)

Bible Students viewed the ransom arrangement as the Bible's main teaching. That explains why the Watch Tower often focused on Jesus. For example, in its first year of publication, the magazine mentioned the name Jesus ten times more than the name Jehovah. Regarding the Bible Students' early years, The Watchtower of March 15, 1976, noted that they gave "overbalanced importance" to Jesus. In time, though, Jehovah helped them to discern the prominence that the Bible gives to God's personal name. How did that affect the Bible Students? Especially from 1919 onward, says the same Watchtower article, "they began showing more appreciation for Messiah's heavenly Father, Jehovah." In fact, during the decade following 1919, The Watch Tower mentioned God's name over 6,500 times!

<sup>10</sup> By giving the name Jehovah proper recognition, our brothers showed their love for God's name. Like Moses of old, they set out to "declare the name of Jehovah." (Deut. 32:3; Ps. 34:3) In turn, as promised in the Scriptures, Jehovah took note of their love for his name and showed them favor.—Ps. 119:132; Heb. 6:10.

his purpose. For example, for Moses and the Israelites, Jehovah became a Rescuer, a Lawgiver, a Provider—and much more. Thus, Jehovah himself chooses to become whatever is necessary to fulfill his promises to his people. However, while the name Jehovah may include this idea, it is not limited to what he himself chooses to become. It also includes what he causes his creation to become in the accomplishment of his purpose.*[1]

*[1] See appendix A4 in the revised New World Translation.

<sup>11</sup> Second, true Christians acquired the right understanding of the work assigned by God. Shortly after 1919, the anointed brothers taking the lead were moved to examine the prophecy of Isaiah. Thereafter, the contents of our publications underwent a change in focus. Why did that adjustment prove to be “food at the proper time”?—Matt. 24:45.

<sup>12</sup> Before 1919, The Watch Tower had never discussed in any detail Isaiah’s statement: “‘You are my witnesses,’ declares Jehovah, ‘yes, my servant whom 11, 12. (a) In what way did our publications change soon after 1919? (b) To what was Jehovah drawing the attention of his servants, and why?

I have chosen.’” (Read Isaiah 43:10-12.) But soon after 1919, our publications began to pay attention to that Bible passage, encouraging all anointed ones to share in the work Jehovah had assigned to them—that of witnessing about him. In fact, from 1925 to 1931 alone, Isaiah chapter 43 was considered in 57 different issues of The Watch Tower, and each issue applied Isaiah’s words to true Christians. Clearly, during those years, Jehovah was drawing the attention of his servants to the work they had to do. Why so? In a way, so that they could be “tested as to fitness first.” (1 Tim. 3:10) Before they could rightly bear God’s name, the Bible Students had to prove to Jehovah by their works that they truly were his witnesses.—Luke 24:47, 48.

<sup>13</sup> Third, Jehovah’s people came to appreciate the importance of the sanctification of God’s name. During the 1920’s, they discerned that the sanctification of God’s name is the most important issue to be settled. How does God’s Word reveal that weighty truth? Consider two examples. What was 13. How does God’s Word reveal the most important issue to be settled?

HOW THE WATCHTOWER HAS EXALTED GOD'S NAME

Throughout the years, the front cover of the Watchtower magazine gave more and more importance to the name Jehovah. Note some of the adjustments that occurred on the magazine's cover.

Zion's Watch Tower, July 1879

From the outset, the magazine used God's name. The second issue stated: "'Zion's Watch Tower' has, we believe, JEHOVAH for its backer."

The Watchtower, October 15, 1931

The name Jehovah and the scripture Isaiah 43:12 became part of the cover.

The Watchtower, January 1, 1939

The name Jehovah appeared in two places on the cover, together with Isaiah 43:12 and Ezekiel 35:15.

The Watchtower, March 1, 1939

The name Jehovah appeared on the cover in three places; also starting with this issue, the full title of the magazine became The Watchtower Announcing Jehovah's Kingdom.

In addition, starting in the late 1920's and continuing for over 20 years, the first paragraph of the first article in each issue of The Watchtower contained the name Jehovah. What a fine reminder for God's people to exalt God's name!

the principal reason why God rescued Israel from Egypt? Jehovah stated: “To have my name declared in all the earth.” (Ex. 9:16) And why did Jehovah show mercy to Israel when they rebelled against him? Again, Jehovah said: “I acted for the sake of my name so that it would not be profaned before the nations.” (Ezek. 20:8-10) What did the Bible Students learn from those and other Bible accounts?

<sup>14</sup> By the late 1920’s, God’s people discerned the significance of what Isaiah had stated some 2,700 years earlier. Regarding Jehovah he said: “This is how you led your people, to make a majestic name for yourself.” (Isa. 63:14) The Bible Students understood that the primary issue was, not personal salvation, but the sanctifying of God’s name. (Isa. 37:20; Ezek. 38:23) In 1929, the book Prophecy summed up that truth, stating: “Jehovah’s name is the most vital issue before all creation.” This adjusted understanding further motivated God’s servants to witness about Jehovah and to clear his name of slander.

14. (a) By the late 1920’s, what did God’s people discern? (b) What effect did the deeper understanding acquired by the Bible Students have on the preaching work? (See also the box “A Powerful Reason to Preach.”)

A POWERFUL REASON TO PREACH

HOW did having a clearer understanding of the issue involving the sanctification of God's name affect the Bible Students' view of the preaching work? In 1930, The Watch Tower stated: "When this truth [about the sanctification of God's name] becomes thoroughly entrenched in the mind of the Christian he begins to realize what a marvelous privilege is his to be a witness to the word and name of Jehovah God." Indeed, understanding that the sanctification of God's name was the main issue gave our brothers and sisters a powerful reason to preach. (Ps. 8:1) Take Helen Borchert as an example. She started pioneering on April 1, 1930, and remained a faithful Witness until she finished her earthly course in July 2003 at the age of 96. What moved her to keep on preaching for decades? Many years later she said: "From that day until this moment, my most urgent desire has been . . . to clear from slander the name and Word of Jehovah God." For us today, having a share in sanctifying God's name is still a powerful reason to preach.

<sup>15</sup> By the dawn of the 1930's, our brothers had acquired a proper view of the importance of God's name, a clearer understanding of the work God had assigned them to do, and a deeper insight into the main issue to be settled. Now, Jehovah's time had come to give his servants the honor of publicly bearing his name. To see how that came about, let us consider some past events.

15. (a) By the 1930's, what had our brothers acquired? (b) What time had come?

Jehovah Takes “a People for His Name”

<sup>16</sup> An outstanding way in which Jehovah exalts his name is by having a people on earth who bear his name. From 1513 B.C.E. onward, the nation of Israel represented Jehovah as his people. (Isa. 43:12) However, they failed to keep their part of the covenant with God, and in 33 C.E., they lost their special relationship with him. Shortly thereafter, Jehovah “turned his attention to the nations to take out of them a people for his name.” (Acts 15:14) That newly chosen people became known as “the Israel of God,” which consists of anointed followers of Christ from various nations.—Gal. 6:16.

<sup>17</sup> In about 44 C.E., Christ's disciples were “by divine providence called Christians.” (Acts 11:26)

16. (a) In what outstanding way does Jehovah exalt his name? (b) In the past, who first served as a people for God's name?

148 You Gave Your Only-Begotten Son (John 15:13)

1. Jehovah, dear Father,
    There seemed no hope for us.
    The ransom has given
    Hope to ev'ryone!
    We give our lives to you,
    Our best in all we do.
    And we'll tell others too,
    That your will might be done.

(CHORUS)

*You gave your only Son,
    And now we sing as one,
A song we'll sing forever,
    for giving us your only Son.*

2. Your kindness, your mercy,
    They draw us close to you.
    Your great name, your friendship,
    These we've come to love.
    But something more than this
    Is your most precious gift.
    He died that we might live.
    You sent him from above.

(Chorus)

Ending

Jehovah, dear Father, we pray in gratitude.
    We offer our thanks, for giving us your only Son.

88 Children Are a Trust From God (Psalm 127:3-5)

1. When a man becomes a father

And a woman has a child of her own,
They share a trust, they must remember,
That is not theirs, not theirs alone.
The gift they share is from Jehovah;
Of life and love he is the one true Source.
To parents he gives sure direction
That they may follow the wisest course.

(CHORUS)

*A sacred trust you have been given;
A precious life is in your hands.
You can bestow the greatest favor;
Instruct your child in God's commands.*

2. All the words God has commanded—

They must always prove to be on your heart.
These words you'll speak to sons and daughters;
This is your trust, this is your part.
To them you'll speak along your roadway,
When you rise up and when you are at rest.
In years to come, may they remember,
May they be faithful, may they be blessed.

Parents, Help Your Children Build Faith

“Young men and young women . . . Let them praise the name of Jehovah.”—PS. 148:12, 13.

SONGS: 88, 115

HOW WOULD YOU ANSWER?

Why is it so important to know your children well?

How might you use illustrations effectively in teaching?

Why do you need to be faithful, patient, and prayerful?

“WE BELIEVE in Jehovah, but that does not necessarily mean that our children will believe,” said a married couple in France. They commented: “Faith is not something you inherit. Our children acquire it little by little.” An Australian brother wrote: “Helping to build faith in your child’s heart is probably the greatest challenge

1, 2. (a) What challenge do parents face, and how can they meet that challenge? (b) What four points will we now examine?

you will ever face. You need to draw on every available resource. You may feel that you have dealt with a question to your child's satisfaction. Then you find that he raises the same question again later! The answers that satisfy your child's curious mind today may not be enough for him tomorrow. You may need to revisit some subjects regularly."

2 If you are a parent, do you at times feel unequal to the responsibility of teaching and molding your children to become men and women who have faith? Really, in our own wisdom, none of us are up to the task! (Jer. 10:23) But we can succeed when we look to God for guidance. Consider four things that can assist you in helping your children to build faith: (1) Get to know them well. (2) Put your heart into your teaching. (3) Use good illustrations. (4) Be patient and prayerful.

KNOW YOUR CHILDREN WELL

3 Jesus was not afraid to ask his followers what they believed. (Matt. 16:13-15) Imitate his example. It is best, in a relaxed setting, to invite your children to express their feelings. That includes talking about any uncertainties, or doubts, they may have. A 15-year-old brother in Australia wrote: “Dad often talks with me about my faith and helps me to reason. He asks: ‘What does the Bible say?’ ‘Do you believe what it says?’ ‘Why do you believe it?’ He wants me to answer in my own words and not simply repeat his or Mum’s words. As I got older, I had to expand on my answers.”

4 If a child is unsure about some teaching, try not to react too strongly or to respond as if you were on the defensive. Patiently help him to reason on the matter. “Take your child’s questions seriously,” said one father. “Do not dismiss them as of little importance, and do not avoid a subject simply because it may make you feel uncomfortable.” Actually, it is helpful to view your child’s sincere questions as an indication that he cares and wants to understand. Even at 12 years of age, Jesus asked serious questions. (Read Luke 2:46.) “When I said that I wondered if we had the true religion,” recalls a 15-year-old in Denmark, “my parents took it calmly—even though they may have been worried about me. They answered all my questions, using the Bible.”

5 Get to know your children well—their thinking, their feelings, their concerns. Never assume that they have faith simply because they attend Christian meetings and share in the field service with you. Include spiritual discussions in your daily activities. Pray with and for your children. Try to be aware of any tests to their faith, and help them to deal with these.

5. How can parents show that they do not take their child’s faith for granted?

PUT YOUR HEART INTO YOUR TEACHING

6 As a teacher, Jesus reached hearts because he loved Jehovah, God's Word, and people. (Luke 24:32; John 7:46) Similar love will help parents reach the hearts of their children. (Read Deuteronomy 6:5-8; Luke 6:45.) So parents, be good students of the Bible and of our study aids. Take an interest in creation and in articles in our publications that discuss this topic. (Matt. 6:26, 28) Your doing so will broaden your knowledge, deepen your appreciation for Jehovah, and better equip you to teach your young ones.—Luke 6:40.

6. When parents inculcate Bible truth in their own heart, how does this help them as teachers?

7 When your heart is filled with Bible truth, you will want to discuss it with your family. Do this not only when preparing for Christian meetings or during family worship but at any time. Moreover, such discussions should not be forced but should be natural and spontaneous—a part of your everyday conversation. A couple in the United States reflect on Jehovah when the family enjoy an aspect of nature or certain foods. “We remind our children of the love and forethought that Jehovah put into everything he provided for us,” the parents state. When gardening with their two girls, a couple in South Africa point to aspects such as the marvels of how seeds germinate and then plants grow. “We try to develop in our daughters a great respect for life and its wonderful complexity,” say the parents.

7, 8. When a parent’s heart is filled with Bible truth, what will be the result? Illustrate.

8 When his son was about ten years old, a father in Australia took advantage of a visit to a museum to help his son to strengthen his faith in God and in creation. “We saw a display of ancient sea creatures called ammonoids and trilobites,” says the father. “It struck us that these extinct animals were beautiful, complex, and complete—no less so than what we can see today. So if life evolved from simple to more complex forms, why were these ancient creatures already so complex? It was a lesson that deeply impressed me and that I shared with my son.”

USE EFFECTIVE ILLUSTRATIONS

9 Jesus often used illustrations, which stimulate thinking, appeal to the heart, and aid the memory. (Matt. 13:34, 35) Children tend to have a vivid imagination. So parents, try to use illustrations.

9. Why are illustrations effective, and how did one mother demonstrate this?

trations liberally in your teaching. A mother in Japan did just that. When her two boys were eight and ten respectively, she taught them about earth's atmosphere and the care Jehovah showed in making it. To do that, she gave the boys milk, sugar, and coffee. Then she asked each of the boys to make her a cup of coffee. "They took great care," she explained. "When I asked them why they were so careful, they said that they wanted the coffee to be just the way I like it. I explained that God mixed the gases in the atmosphere with similar care—just right for us." That illustration was fitting for their age, and it engaged them in a way that passive learning might not have. No doubt they long remembered the lesson!

10 You might even use a recipe to help your 10, 11. (a) What illustration could you use to help your child build faith in God? (See opening picture of the standard edition.) (b) What illustrations have you found to be effective?

child build faith in God. How? After you bake a cake or a batch of cookies, explain the role of the recipe. Then hand your child a piece of fruit, perhaps an apple, and ask: “Did you know that this apple started off with a ‘recipe’?” Then cut the apple in two, and give him a seed. You could discuss that the recipe was “written” in the seed but in a language far more complex than the words in a recipe book. You might ask: “If the recipe for the cake had a writer, who wrote the much more complex recipe for the apple?” For an older child, you could explain that the recipe for the apple—in fact, for the entire tree on which it grew—was part of the code in the DNA. Together, you might even look at some of the illustrations on pages 10 to 20 of our brochure The Origin of Life—Five Questions Worth Asking.

11 Many parents enjoy discussing articles in the Awake! series “Was It Designed?” with their children. Or they use this feature as a basis for teaching simple ideas to very young children. For instance, a couple in Denmark compared airplanes to birds. “Airplanes look just like birds,” they said. “But can airplanes lay eggs and hatch small airplanes? Do birds need special landing strips? And how would you compare the sound of an airplane to the singing of a bird? So who is more intelligent—the maker of airplanes or the Creator of birds?” Such comments, along with good questions, can help a child to develop “thinking ability” and to build faith in God. —Prov. 2:10-12.

12 Effective illustrations can also strengthen a child’s faith in the accuracy of the Bible. For example, consider Job 26:7. (Read.) How might you show that this scripture was inspired? You could just state facts. Instead, why not stimulate your child's imagination? Bring up the fact that Job lived long before telescopes and spaceships. Your child's job could be to show how difficult it might be for some to believe that a very large object, such as the earth, could sit on nothing. The child could use a ball or a stone to illustrate the point by showing that objects with mass have to rest on something. Such a lesson would impress on your child that Jehovah had facts recorded in the Bible long before humans could prove them. —Neh. 9:6.

ILLUSTRATE THE VALUE OF BIBLE PRINCIPLES

13 It is particularly important that you impress on your children the value of Bible principles. (Read Psalm 1:1-3.) There are many ways to do this. For example, you could ask your children to imagine that they are going to live on a remote island and will have to choose a number of people to live there with them. Then ask, “What qualities must each person have if all in the group are to live in peace and get along well?” You could also talk with them about the wise directions found at Galatians 5:19-23.

14 That exercise could teach two important lessons. First, God’s standards promote genuine peace and harmony. Second, by educating us now, Jehovah is preparing us for life in the new world. (Isa. 54:13; John 17:3) You could drive these points home by selecting an experience from our publications. It might be from the series “The Bible Changes Lives,” published in The Watchtower. Or if someone in your congregation has made major changes in order to please Jehovah, you could invite him to join you and share his story. Such examples bring Bible principles to life!—Heb. 4:12.

15 The point is this: When teaching your children, do not get into a rut. Try to use your imagination. Stimulate their thinking, keeping their age in mind. Make learning exciting, faith strengthening. “Never tire of experimenting with new ways to approach old subjects,” said one father.

BE FAITHFUL, PATIENT, PRAYERFUL

16 God’s spirit is needed to produce strong faith. (Gal. 5:22, 23) Like literal fruit, faith takes time to grow. Thus you will need to manifest patience and perseverance in teaching your children. “My wife and I simply gave our children a lot of attention,” said a father of two in Japan.

15. What should you have as a primary goal when teaching your children?

16. When teaching children, why is patience vital? Illustrate.

“From the time they were very young, I studied with them for 15 minutes every day, except on days when we had Christian meetings. Fifteen minutes was not too hard for us or for them.” A circuit overseer wrote: “As a teenager, I had many more questions or doubts than I ever put into words. Over time, many of these were addressed at meetings or during family or personal study. That’s why it’s important for parents just to keep teaching.”

17 Something that is very important, of course, is your example of faith. Your children will observe what you do, and it certainly will affect them for the good. So as parents, keep building your own faith. Let your children see how real Jehovah is to you. When a couple in Bermuda have anxious moments, they pray with their children that Jehovah guide them, and they encourage their children to pray on their own. “We also tell our older daughter, ‘Have complete trust in Jehovah, keep busy in Kingdom service, and do not worry too much.’ When she sees the outcome, she knows that Jehovah is helping us. This has done wonders for her faith in God and in the Bible.”

18 In the end, of course, children have to develop their own faith. As parents, you can plant and water. Only God can make it grow. (1 Cor. 3:6) So pray for his spirit, and work hard to teach your precious children, for by doing so, you give Jehovah much to bless.—Eph. 6:4.

115      Making Our Way Successful (Joshua 1:8)

1. We delight in Jehovah's Word.

    May we read it each day.

    Sound each thought in an undertone;

    Meditate and obey.

    May it guide ev'ry step we take,

    Ev'ry thought we express.

(CHORUS)

Read and meditate, then obey.

This Jehovah will bless.

Walk with him each and ev'ry day.

Find the way to success.

2. When the kings ruled in Israel,

    They received this command:

    'Ev'ry king for himself must write

    God's Law in his own hand.

    He must read in it all his days,

    That he may not transgress.'

(Chorus)

3. As we feed on God's Word each day,

    Hope and comfort we find.

    Calm descends on our troubled hearts;

    Faith in Him is refined.

    When we truly embrace his Word,

    We mature and progress.

(Chorus)
