NAHUM 1–HABAKKUK 3 | Remain Spiritually Alert and Active

Hab 1:5, 6

The impending destruction of Judah by the Babylonians may have seemed unlikely. Judah was under the powerful influence of Egypt. The Chaldeans were not stronger than Egypt, were they? In addition, it was unthinkable to many Jews that Jehovah would allow Jerusalem and its temple to be destroyed. Nonetheless, the prophecy would come true, and Habakkuk needed to keep in expectation of it by remaining spiritually alert and active.

 What convinces me that the end of this system of things is very near?

How can I remain spiritually alert and active?

We Will Keep Enduring

(Matthew 24:13)

1. How can we endure

When trials come, as Jesus said?
Through his pain he saw
The joy of better things ahead.
God's promise, God's justice,
Were thoughts on which he fed.

(CHORUS)

*We need to have endurance.
Our faith we must defend.
His love is our assurance.
So we will keep enduring to the end.*

2. Though the passing years

May bring us sorrow, bring us pain;
There beyond the tears,
We see the life that we can gain.
To be there, feel free there,
Determined we remain.

(Chorus)

3. We will not give up

Nor see the need for doubt or fear.
Faithfully we'll serve
Until Jehovah's day is here.
Let's keep on enduring.
That time is very near.

(Chorus)

NAHUM

1 A pronouncement against Nin'e-veh: The book of the vision of Na'hum the El'kosh-ite:

2 Jehovah is a God who requires exclusive devotion and takes vengeance;

Jehovah takes vengeance and is ready to express his wrath.

Jehovah takes vengeance against his foes,
And he stores up wrath for his enemies.

3 Jehovah is slow to anger and great in power,
But by no means will Jehovah hold back due punishment.

His path is in destructive wind and storm,
And the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 He rebukes the sea, and he dries it up;
And he makes all the rivers run dry.
Ba'shan and Car'mel wither,
And the blossoms of Leb'a-non wither.

5 Mountains quake because of him,
And the hills melt.
The earth will be in an upheaval because of his face,
Along with the land and all those dwelling in it.

6 Who can stand before his indignation?
And who can withstand the heat of his anger?

His wrath will be poured out like fire,
And the rocks will be shattered because of him.

⁷ Jehovah is good, a stronghold in the day of distress.

He is mindful of those seeking refuge in him.

⁸ With a sweeping flood he will make a complete extermination of her place,
And darkness will pursue his enemies.

⁹ What will you plot against Jehovah?
He is causing a complete extermination.
Distress will not arise a second time.

¹⁰ For they are interwoven like thorns,
And they are like those drunk with beer;
But they will be consumed like dry stubble.

¹¹ From you will come one who plots evil against Jehovah,
Giving worthless advice.

¹² This is what Jehovah says:
“Though they were at full strength and numerous,
Even so they will be cut down and will pass away.

I have afflicted you, but I will afflict you no more.

¹³ And now I will break his yoke bar from off you,
And I will tear your bonds in two.

¹⁴ Jehovah has commanded concerning you,
‘Your name will not be perpetuated further.
I will do away with the carved images and metal statues from the house of your gods.
I will make a grave for you, because you are contemptible.’

¹⁵ Look! On the mountains are the feet of one bringing good news,
The one proclaiming peace.
Celebrate your festivals, O Judah, pay your vows,
For the worthless one will never pass through you again.
He will be utterly destroyed.”

2 One who scatters has come up against you.
Guard the fortifications.
Keep watch over the road.
Brace yourselves and muster all your strength.

² For Jehovah will restore the pride of Jacob,
Along with the pride of Israel,
For the devastators have devastated them;
And they have ruined their shoots.

³ The shields of his mighty men are dyed red,
His warriors are dressed in crimson.
The iron fittings of his war chariots flash like fire
In the day he prepares for battle,

And the juniper spears are brandished.

⁴ The war chariots race madly through the streets.
They rush up and down the public squares.
They shine like burning torches and flash like lightning.

⁵ He will summon his officers.
They will stumble as they advance.
They rush to her wall;
They set up the barricade.

⁶ The gates of the rivers will be opened,
And the palace will be dissolved.

⁷ It has been decreed: She is exposed,
She is carried away, and her slave girls moan;
They sound like doves as they beat their breasts.

⁸ Throughout her days Nin'e-veh was like a pool of waters,
But now they are fleeing.
"Stand still! Stand still!"
But no one is turning back.

⁹ Plunder silver, plunder gold!
There is no end to the treasures.
It is stocked with all sorts of precious things.

¹⁰ The city is empty, desolate, devastated!
Their hearts melt in fear, their knees buckle, their hips tremble;

All their faces are flushed.

¹¹ Where is the lair of lions, where the young lions feed,
Where the lion goes out leading its cub,
With no one to make them afraid?

¹² The lion tore apart enough prey for his cubs
And strangled for his lionesses.
He kept his dens filled with prey,
His lairs with torn animals.

¹³ “Look! I am against you,” declares Jehovah of armies,
“I will burn up her war chariots in smoke,
And the sword will devour your young lions.
I will cut off your prey from the earth,
And the sound of your messengers will be heard no more.”

3 Woe to the city of bloodshed!
She is completely full of deception and robbery.
She is never without prey!

² There is the crack of the whip and the rattle of wheels,
The dashing horse and the bounding chariot.

³ The mounted horseman, the flashing sword, and the glittering spear,

The multitude of the slain and the heaps of carcasses

—There is no end to the dead bodies.

They keep stumbling over the dead bodies.

⁴ This is because of the many acts of prostitution of the prostitute,

She who is attractive and charming, a mistress
of sorceries,

Who ensnares nations by her prostitution and families by her sorceries.

⁵ “Look! I am against you,” declares Jehovah of
armies,

“I will lift your skirts up over your face;

I will cause nations to see your nakedness,

And kingdoms your disgrace.

⁶ And I will throw filth on you

And make you despicable;

I will make a spectacle of you.

⁷ Everyone who sees you will flee from you and say,
‘Nin'e-veh has been devastated!

Who will sympathize with her?’

Where will I find comforters for you?

⁸ Are you better than No-a'mon, which sat by the Nile canals?

Waters surrounded her;

Her wealth was the sea and her wall was the sea.

⁹ E·thi·o'pi·a was her source of boundless strength, also Egypt.

Put and the Lib'y·ans were your helpers.

¹⁰ But even she became an exile;

She went into captivity.

Her children also were dashed to pieces on every street corner.

They cast lots over her honored men,

And all her great men have been bound with fetters.

¹¹ You will also become drunk;

You will go into hiding.

You will seek refuge from the enemy.

¹² All your fortifications are like fig trees with the first ripe fruits;

If they are shaken, they will fall into the mouth of devourers.

¹³ Look! Your troops are like women in your midst.

The gates of your land will be wide open for your enemies.

Fire will consume the bars of your gates.

¹⁴ Draw water for the siege!

Strengthen your fortifications.

Go down into the mire and tread the clay;
Grab hold of the brick mold.

¹⁵ Even there fire will consume you.

A sword will cut you down.

It will devour you as the young locusts do.

Make yourself as numerous as the young locusts!

Yes, make yourself as numerous as the locusts!

¹⁶ You have multiplied your merchants more than the stars of the heavens.

The young locust strips off its skin and flies
away.

¹⁷ Your guards are like the locust,

And your officers like a locust swarm.

They camp in the stone pens on a cold day,

But when the sun shines, they fly away;

And no one knows where they are.

¹⁸ Your shepherds are drowsy, O king of As-syr'i-a;

Your nobles stay in their residences.

Your people are scattered on the mountains,

And no one is gathering them together.

¹⁹ There is no relief for your catastrophe.

Your wound is beyond healing.

All those hearing the report about you will clap their hands;

For who has not suffered from your relentless cruelty?”

HABAKKUK

1 A pronouncement that Ha·bak'kuk the prophet received in a vision:

2 How long, O Jehovah, must I cry for help, but you do not hear?

How long must I ask for help from violence, but you do not intervene?

3 Why do you make me witness wrongdoing?

And why do you tolerate oppression?

Why are destruction and violence before me?

And why do quarreling and conflict abound?

4 So law is paralyzed,

And justice is never carried out.

For the wicked surround the righteous;

That is why justice is perverted.

5 “Look among the nations and pay attention!

Stare in amazement and be astounded;

For something will happen in your days

That you will not believe even if it is told to you.

6 For here I am raising up the Chal·de'ans,

The ruthless and impetuous nation.

They sweep through vast stretches of the earth
To seize homes not theirs.

⁷ They are frightening and fearsome.
They establish their own justice and authority.

⁸ Their horses are swifter than leopards,
And they are fiercer than wolves in the night.
Their warhorses gallop forward;
Their horses come from far away.
They swoop down like the eagle rushing to feed.

⁹ All of them come bent on violence.
The assembling of their faces is like the east wind,
And they scoop up captives like sand.

¹⁰ They scoff at kings
And laugh at high officials.
They laugh at every fortified place;
They pile up a dirt ramp and capture it.

¹¹ Then they move forward like the wind and pass through,
But they will become guilty,
Because they credit their power to their god.”

¹² Are you not from everlasting, O Jehovah?
O my God, my Holy One, you do not die.
O Jehovah, you appointed them to execute judgment;

My Rock, you established them for punishment.

¹³ Your eyes are too pure to look on what is evil,
And you cannot tolerate wickedness.
Why, then, do you tolerate the treacherous
And keep silent when a wicked man swallows up someone more righteous than he is?

¹⁴ Why do you make man like the fish of the sea,
Like creeping things that have no ruler?

¹⁵ All of these he hauls up with a fishhook.
He catches them in his dragnet,
And he gathers them in his fishing net.
That is why he rejoices greatly.

¹⁶ That is why he offers sacrifices to his dragnet
And makes sacrifices to his fishing net;
For by them his portion is rich,
And his food is choice.

¹⁷ Will he then keep emptying out his dragnet?
Will he go on slaughtering nations without compassion?

2 At my guardpost I will keep standing,
And I will station myself on the rampart.
I will keep watch to see what he will speak by means of me
And what I will reply when I am reproved.

² Jehovah then answered me:

“Write down the vision, and inscribe it clearly on tablets,
So that the one reading aloud from it may do so easily.

³ For the vision is yet for its appointed time,
And it is rushing toward its end, and it will not lie.
Even if it should delay, keep in expectation of it!
For it will without fail come true.
It will not be late!

⁴ Look at the one who is proud;
He is not upright within himself.
But the righteous one will live by his faithfulness.

⁵ Indeed, because the wine is treacherous,
The arrogant man will not reach his goal.
He makes his appetite as large as the Grave;
He is like death and cannot be satisfied.
He keeps gathering all the nations
And collecting for himself all the peoples.

⁶ Will not all of these speak a proverb, an allusion,
and riddles against him?
They will say:
‘Woe to him who accumulates what is not his
—For how long?—
And who makes even greater his own debt!

⁷ Will not your creditors rise up suddenly?

They will wake up and violently shake you,
And you will become something for them to plunder.

⁸ Because you plundered many nations,
All the rest of the peoples will plunder you,
Because of your shedding men's blood
And your violence to the earth,
To the cities and those living in them.

⁹ Woe to the one who makes evil gain for his house,
So as to set his nest on the height,
To escape the grasp of calamity!

¹⁰ You have plotted shame against your house.
By wiping out many peoples you sin against yourself.

¹¹ For a stone will cry out from the wall,
And from the woodwork a rafter will answer it.

¹² Woe to the one who builds a city by bloodshed,
And who establishes a town by unrighteousness!

¹³ Look! Is it not from Jehovah of armies that peoples will work hard to feed the fire,
And that nations tire themselves out for nothing?

¹⁴ For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of Jehovah
As the waters cover the sea.

- ¹⁵ Woe to the one who gives his companions
something to drink,
Adding to it rage and anger, to make them drunk,
In order to look on their nakedness!
- ¹⁶ You will be gluttoned with dishonor rather than glory.
You too—drink and expose your uncircumcised condition.
The cup in the right hand of Jehovah will come around to you,
And disgrace will cover over your glory;
- ¹⁷ For the violence done to Leb'a·non will cover you,
And the destruction that terrified the beasts will come upon you,
Because of your shedding men's blood
And your violence to the earth,
To the cities and those living in them.
- ¹⁸ Of what benefit is a carved image
When its maker has carved it?
Of what benefit is a metal statue and a teacher of lies,
Even though its maker trusts in it,
Making worthless gods that are speechless?
- ¹⁹ Woe to the one who says to a piece of wood, “Awake!”
Or to a speechless stone, “Wake up! Instruct us!”
Look! It is overlaid in gold and silver,

And there is no breath at all within it.

²⁰ But Jehovah is in his holy temple.

Be silent before him, all the earth!”

3 The prayer of Ha-bak'kuk the prophet, in dirges:

² O Jehovah, I have heard the report about you.

I am in awe, O Jehovah, of your activity.

In the midst of the years bring it to life!

In the midst of the years make it known.

May you remember to show mercy during the turmoil.

³ God came from Te'man,

The Holy One from Mount Pa'ran. (Selah)

His majesty covered the heavens;

With his praise the earth was filled.

⁴ His brightness was like the light.

Two rays flashed from his hand,

Where his strength was hidden.

⁵ Before him went pestilence,

And burning fever followed at his feet.

⁶ He stood still and shook the earth.

With a look, he made nations leap.

The eternal mountains were smashed,

And the ancient hills bowed down.

The paths of long ago are his.

⁷ I saw trouble in the tents of Cu'shan.

The tent cloths of the land of Mid'i-an trembled.

- ⁸ Is it against the rivers, O Jehovah,
Is it against the rivers that your anger is burning?
Or is your fury against the sea?
For you rode on your horses;
Your chariots were victorious.
- ⁹ Your bow is uncovered and ready.
The rods are assigned with an oath. (Selah)
You split the earth with rivers.
- ¹⁰ Mountains writhed in pain at the sight of you.
A downpour of waters swept through.
The deep roared with its voice.
It lifted its hands high.
- ¹¹ Sun and moon stood still in their lofty abode.
Your arrows went out like the light.
The lightning of your spear was brilliant.
- ¹² You marched through the earth with indignation.
You trampled the nations in anger.
- ¹³ You went out for the salvation of your people, to save your anointed one.
You crushed the leader of the house of the wicked.
It was exposed from the foundation to the top.
(Selah)

- ¹⁴ You pierced the head of his warriors with his own weapons
When they stormed out to scatter me.
They were overjoyed to devour an afflicted one in secret.
- ¹⁵ Through the sea you trod with your horses,
Through the surging of vast waters.
- ¹⁶ I heard and I trembled within;
At the sound my lips quivered.
Rottenness entered my bones;
My legs beneath me were shaking.
But I quietly wait for the day of distress,
For it is coming upon the people who attack us.
- ¹⁷ Although the fig tree may not blossom,
And there may be no fruit on the vines;
Although the olive crop may fail,
And the fields may produce no food;
Although the flock may disappear from the pen,
And there may be no cattle in the stalls;
- ¹⁸ Yet, as for me, I will exult in Jehovah;
I will be joyful in the God of my salvation.
- ¹⁹ The Sovereign Lord Jehovah is my strength;
He will make my feet like those of a deer
And cause me to tread on high places.
To the director; with my stringed instruments.

Remain Spiritually Alert and Active When Your Circumstances Change

Changes are unavoidable, especially during these last days. (1Co 7:31) Whether expected or not, good or bad, changes can disrupt our worship and strain our relationship with Jehovah. What will help us to remain spiritually alert and active during times of change? Watch the video Staying Spiritually Grounded While Moving, and then answer the following questions:

What advice did one brother give the father?

How did the principle found at Matthew 7:25 apply to the family's situation?

How did the family plan ahead for the move, and how did this help them?

What helped the family to adapt to changes both in the congregation and in the territory?

Major changes that I have experienced recently:

How can I apply the principles found in this video to my situation?

Habakkuk 2:1-4—In order to survive the coming day of Jehovah's judgment, we must "keep in expectation of it"

Reference: w07 11/15 10 paragraphs 3-5.

Like Habakkuk, we should remain spiritually alert and active. We should also be ready to adjust our thinking in line with any "reproof," or correction, we may receive.

As we wait in faith for the coming of Jehovah's day, let us not lose the sense of urgency.

To survive the coming day of Jehovah's judgment, we must endure in faithfulness.—Hebrews 10:36-38.

Digging for Spiritual Gems

Nahum 1:8; 2:6—How was Nineveh exterminated?

Reference: w07 11/15 9 paragraph 2.

What "gates of the rivers" were opened? These gates referred to the opening made in the walls of Nineveh by the waters of the Tigris River. In 632 B.C.E. when the joint forces of the Babylonians and the Medes came up against Nineveh, she did not feel particularly threatened. Secure behind her high walls, she considered herself to be an impenetrable city. However, heavy rains caused the Tigris to overflow. According to historian Diodorus, this “both inundated a portion of the city and broke down the walls for a distance.” The river gates were thus opened, and as foretold, Nineveh was taken as quickly as fire devours dry stubble.—Nahum 1:8-10.

Habakkuk 3:17-19—Although we may face hardship before and during Armageddon, what confidence can we have?

Reference: w07 11/15 10 paragraph 10.

Even though hardship may befall us before and during Armageddon, we can be confident that Jehovah will supply us with “vital energy” as we joyfully continue serving him.

Can You Help in Your Congregation?

Before he ascended to heaven, Jesus told his disciples: “You will be witnesses of me ... to the most distant part of the earth.” (Acts 1:8) How was it possible for the early Christians to meet that challenge?

Martin Goodman, professor at Oxford University, observes that the “sense of mission set Christians apart from other religious groups, including Jews, in the early Roman empire.” Jesus had traveled from place to place to carry out his ministry. Following his example, true Christians would have understood that spreading “the good news of the Kingdom of God” would involve finding people who desired to know Bible truth. (Luke 4:43) This is one of the reasons why the first-century Christian congregation had “apostles,” a term that literally refers to those sent forth, envoys. (Mark 3:14) Jesus commanded his followers: “Go, therefore, and make disciples of people of all the nations.” —Matthew 28:18-20.

We do not have any of the 12 apostles of Jesus with us on earth today, but many servants of Jehovah manifest a missionary spirit. To the invitation to expand their preaching work, they respond: “Here I am! Send me!” (Isaiah 6:8) Some, such as thousands of graduates of Gilead School, have moved to faraway lands. Others have moved to a different area of their native country. Many have learned a new language in order to be part of congregations and groups looking after the needs of those speaking that language. These brothers and sisters who move to where there is a particular need or who learn a new language may not have had the most favorable circumstances and may not have had an easy time. They needed a spirit of self-sacrifice to manifest their love for Jehovah and for their neighbor. Having calculated the cost, they gave of themselves to help. (Luke 14:28-30) Brothers and sisters taking such steps are filling a real need.

However, circumstances differ. Not every Witness is in a position to move to where the need is greater or to take up a new language. So can we show a missionary spirit even in our own congregation?

Be a Missionary in Your Congregation

First-century Christians had an evident missionary spirit, but it is likely that most of them stayed in their hometown. Still, the exhortation that was given to Timothy was as valid for them as it is for all of God's servants: "Do the work of an evangelizer, fully accomplish your ministry." (2 Timothy 4:5) The command to preach the Kingdom message and to make disciples applies to all Christians wherever they are. Moreover, many aspects of missionary work can be applied in our home congregation.

For example, a missionary in a foreign land has to adapt to new circumstances. Many things are very different in his or her new assignment. What about us if we cannot move to where the need is greater? Should we conclude that we know everything about our congregation's territory? Or could we try to find innovative ways to reach people? For example, in 1940, brothers were encouraged to schedule a day each week to do street witnessing. Is that something that you can have a share in doing? Or what about the initiative to use literature display carts? The point is: Have you personally considered such ways of presenting the good news, ways that may be new to you?

Having a positive attitude will help us to be zealous and enthusiastic for the ministry. In many cases, those who make themselves available to move to where the need is greater or to serve in another language field are very qualified publishers. Thus they can be a blessing to many, such as when they take the lead in the field ministry.

Moreover, missionaries often take the lead in the congregation arrangements until qualified local brothers are available. If you are a baptized male Witness, are you “reaching out,” being willing to serve fellow believers in your congregation?—1 Timothy 3:1.

Become “a Strengthening Aid”

In addition to participating zealously in the field ministry and being available to take on responsibilities in the congregation, there are other areas in which we can help our congregation. Anybody—young or old, male or female—can become “a strengthening aid” to fellow believers in need.—Colossians 4:11, footnote

To be of help to our fellow believers, we need to get to know them well. The Bible exhorts us to “consider one another” when we meet together. (Hebrews 10:24) These words suggest that while we do not pry into other people’s affairs, we should seek to know and understand our brothers and their needs. Those needs may be of a practical, emotional, or spiritual nature. Helping fellow believers is not the responsibility of just the elders and ministerial servants. True, there may be occasions when it would be particularly appropriate for one of those brothers to provide assistance. (Galatians 6:1) Yet, all of us may be able to assist elderly brothers and sisters, or entire families, who are facing problems.

Pictures, page 23: Seek to understand the practical, emotional, and spiritual needs of your brothers and sisters

For instance, when Salvatore experienced a financial crisis that made it necessary for him to sell his business, his home, and many of the family's belongings, he wondered how his family could cope. Another family in the congregation saw the need. They provided financial assistance, helped both Salvatore and his wife to find work, and spent many evenings listening to and encouraging the whole family. A friendship was forged that has lasted many years. Despite the real anxiety that marked the earlier period, both families can now look back with happy memories on the time they spent together.

For true Christians, religion is not something private. As demonstrated by Jesus, we need to let everyone know about the wonderful Bible promises. Whether we are in a position to move or not, we can do our best to work what is good toward all. And we certainly can do so in the congregation where we are already serving. (Galatians 6:10) By doing this, we will experience the joy of giving and will be helped to “go on bearing fruit in every good work.” — Colossians 1:10; Acts 20:35.

NAHUM 1–HABAKKUK 3 | Remain Spiritually Alert and Active

Hab 1:5, 6

The impending destruction of Judah by the Babylonians may have seemed unlikely. Judah was under the powerful influence of Egypt. The Chaldeans were not stronger than Egypt, were they? In addition, it was unthinkable to many Jews that Jehovah would allow Jerusalem and its temple to be destroyed. Nonetheless, the prophecy would come true, and Habakkuk needed to keep in expectation of it by remaining spiritually alert and active.

 What convinces me that the end of this system of things is very near?

How can I remain spiritually alert and active?

Remain Spiritually Alert and Active When Your Circumstances Change

Changes are unavoidable, especially during these last days. (1Co 7:31) Whether expected or not, good or bad, changes can disrupt our worship and strain our relationship with Jehovah. What will help us to remain spiritually alert and active during times of change? Watch the video Staying Spiritually Grounded While Moving, and then answer the following questions:

What advice did one brother give the father?

How did the principle found at Matthew 7:25 apply to the family's situation?

How did the family plan ahead for the move, and how did this help them?

What helped the family to adapt to changes both in the congregation and in the territory?

Major changes that I have experienced recently:

How can I apply the principles found in this video to my situation?

22 The Kingdom Carries Out God's Will on Earth

FOCUS OF CHAPTER

The Kingdom fulfills all of God's promises regarding mankind and the earth

A FAITHFUL brother arrives at the meeting, tired after a stressful day. He has faced mistreatment from a demanding boss, stress over the challenges of caring for his family, and anxiety over an illness afflicting his wife. As the music for the opening song begins, he breathes a sigh of relief, glad to be at the Kingdom Hall with his brothers and sisters. The song is about the hope of life in Paradise, and the lyrics ask him to picture that hope, to see himself in that setting. He has always loved this song, and as he sings it along with his family, hope stirs within his troubled heart.

² Have you ever felt that way? Most of us have. Admittedly, though, life in this old system can make it very difficult for us to see the coming Paradise as a reality. These are “critical times hard to deal with,” and the world we live in is anything but paradisaic. (2 Tim. 3:1) What can help us to see our hope as real? Well, how do we really know that soon God’s Kingdom will rule all mankind? Let us consider a few of the prophecies from Jehovah that his people saw fulfilled in the ancient past. Then we will review how those and similar prophecies are undergoing a thrilling fulfillment right now. Finally, with our faith thus bolstered, we will focus on what such prophecies mean for our future.

1, 2. (a) Why may it be difficult at times to see the Paradise as real? (b) What can help us to strengthen our faith in God's promises?

How Jehovah Fulfilled His Promises in the Distant Past

³ Imagine what life was like for the Jews living in exile in Babylon back in the sixth century B.C.E. Many grew up in exile, as did their parents, and life was hard. The Babylonians ridiculed them for their faith in Jehovah. (Ps. 137:1-3) Through the decades, loyal Jews kept clinging to this one bright hope: Jehovah promised to gather his people back to their homeland. Jehovah said that conditions would be wonderful there. He even compared the restored land of Judah to the garden of Eden—a paradise! (Read Isaiah 51:3.) Such promises were clearly designed to reassure God’s people, addressing doubts that might trouble their hearts. How so? Consider some specific prophecies.

3. What promise comforted the Jews living in exile in Babylon?

4 Security. Those exiles would return, not to a literal paradise, but to a distant land that had lain desolate for 70 years, a land that few of them had ever seen. Lions were common in Bible lands back then, as were wolves, leopards, and other predators. A family man might wonder, ‘How will I keep my wife and children safe? What about the sheep and cattle—how will I protect them?’ Such concerns would be only natural. Think, then, of God’s promise recorded at Isaiah 11:6-9 and of how comforting it must have been. (Read.) With those lovely poetic words, Jehovah assured the exiles that they and their livestock would be safe. The lion would eat straw in the sense that it would not devour the Jews’ cattle. Faithful ones would have nothing to fear from such predators. Jehovah promised that his people would be safe in the restored land of Judah, even in the wilderness and in the forests.—Ezek. 34:25.

4. How did Jehovah assure the Jews regarding security in their homeland?

⁵ Abundance. Other concerns might arise. ‘Will I be able to feed my family in the restored homeland? Where will we live? Will there be any work, and will it be better than the drudgery of living in exile under the thumb of our conquerors?’ Through inspired prophecies, Jehovah considerately addressed those questions too. Jehovah promised that his obedient people would find the rains reliable; as a result, the ground would produce “abundant and rich” bread. (Isa. 30:23) As to shelter and meaningful work, Jehovah promised concerning his people: “They will build houses and live in them, and they will plant vineyards and eat their fruitage. They will not build for someone else to inhabit, nor will they plant for others to eat.” (Isa. 65:21, 22) Yes, in many ways life would be wonderful compared with their exile in pagan Babylon. But what about their most serious problems—the ones that led to their exile in the first place?

5. What prophecies helped the returning exiles to be confident that Jehovah would provide abundantly for their needs?

6 Spiritual health. Long before their exile, God's people had grown spiritually sick. Through the prophet Isaiah, Jehovah said of his people: "The whole head is sick, and the whole heart is diseased." (Isa. 1:5) Spiritually, they were blind and deaf, for they kept stopping up their ears to Jehovah's counsel and closing their eyes to the enlightenment he offered. (Isa. 6:10; Jer. 5:21; Ezek. 12:2) If the same problems were to plague the returning exiles, what security could they have? Would they not simply lose Jehovah's favor again? How reassuring was Jehovah's promise: "In that day the deaf will hear the words of the book, and out of the gloom and darkness the eyes of the blind will see." (Isa. 29:18) Yes, Jehovah would bring spiritual healing to his chastened, repentant people. As long as they remained responsive and obedient, he would provide life-giving direction and enlightenment.

7 Did Jehovah live up to his promises? The answer is a matter of historical record. The Jews

7. How were God's promises to his exiled people fulfilled, and why should we find that fulfillment faith-strengthening?

who returned to their homeland were blessed with security, abundance, and spiritual health. For example, Jehovah protected them from neighboring peoples who were stronger and more numerous than they. Predators did not wipe out the Jews' livestock. True, those Jews saw only a limited fulfillment of the paradisaic prophecies that men such as Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel wrote down—but the fulfillment that God's people saw was thrilling and just what they needed at the time. As we reflect on what Jehovah did for his people back then, our faith will grow stronger. If the initial, limited fulfillment of those prophecies was exciting, what would the greater fulfillment be like? Consider what Jehovah has done for us today.

How Jehovah Has Started to Fulfill His Promises in Our Own Time

⁸ Jehovah's people do not now form a literal nation, nor do they occupy a single, physical land. Rather, anointed Christians make up a spiritual nation, "the Israel of God." (Gal. 6:16) Their companions of the "other sheep" join them in a spiritual

142 Holding Fast to Our Hope

(Hebrews 6:18, 19)

Vain is their quest as they try to catch the wind.
Man's tragic flaw is revealed in its starkness;
None can they save, for they all have sinned.

His Son's mighty reign brings us freedom from fear.

Men will no longer cry out to God: "How long?"
Soon he will free all his groaning creation.
Praise God Almighty, and join our song.

“Love . . . in Deed and Truth”

Genuine love identifies true Christians. This article will consider nine ways that we can show love that is “free from hypocrisy.”—2 Cor. 6:6.

16 WEEK OF DECEMBER 4-10

The Truth Brings, “Not Peace, But a Sword”

The negative response of unbelieving relatives to the truth can make life difficult for Jehovah’s people. In this article, we will learn how we can successfully deal with the challenges of family opposition.

106 Cultivating the Quality of Love

(1 Corinthians 13:1-8)

1. We humbly bow to our God in prayer,
That all his qualities we may share.
But most important of all those things
Is love, which having his spirit brings.
We may be talented, wise, or bold,
But we are nothing if love grows cold.
We pray for love that is warm and true,
Revealed in all that we say and do.
2. Love looks for ways to give graciously
And thinks of others unselfishly.
Love never harbors a hateful thought,
Forgives our brothers, as Jesus taught.
Love helps us patiently suffer wrong,
Bears heavy loads when it's really strong.
Through ev'ry trial let love prevail;
It bears all things; it will never fail.

CAN YOU RECALL?

What is the highest form of love?

What is “love free from hypocrisy”?

How can we be sure that our love is genuine?

“Love . . . in Deed and Truth”

“We should love, not in word or with the tongue, but in deed and truth.”

—1 JOHN 3:18.

LOVE based on right principles (a-ga’pe) is a gift from Jehovah. He is its Source. (1 John 4:7) This kind of love is the highest form of love. While it can include affection and warmth, it is primarily identified by unself-

1. What is the highest form of love, and why is that so? (See opening image.)

ish actions for the good of others. According to one reference work, a-ga'pe “can be known only from the actions it prompts.” When we show or are shown unselfish love, our lives are enriched, being filled with joy and meaning.

² Jehovah showed love for humans even before he created Adam and Eve. He made the earth to be man’s everlasting home, a place where man does not just survive but enjoys life to the full. Jehovah did this solely for our benefit, not for personal gain. He further showed unselfish love by blessing his children on earth with the prospect of living forever in the Paradise that he had prepared for them.

³ After Adam and Eve rebelled, Jehovah made his greatest expression of unselfish love. He arranged to ransom the future descendants of those two rebels, certain that some of them would respond favorably to His love. (Gen. 3:15; 1 John 4:10) In fact, from the moment that Jehovah promised a future Savior, He viewed this sacrifice as already made. Then, some 4,000 years later, Jehovah at great personal cost sacrificed his only-begotten Son for the world of mankind. (John

2, 3. How has Jehovah shown unselfish love for humans?

3:16) How grateful we are for Jehovah’s unselfish love!

⁴ We are able to show unselfish love because God created us in his image. Inherited sin has made it challenging for us to manifest love, but it has not removed our ability to do so. Abel showed love for God by unselfishly offering the best of what he had. (Gen. 4:3, 4) Noah displayed unselfish love for his fellow man by preaching God’s message for decades despite not seeing any response from the people. (2 Pet. 2:5) Abraham put his love for God ahead of his own feelings when he was commanded to offer up his son Isaac. (Jas. 2:21) Like those faithful men, we want to show love, despite the challenges we face.

GENUINE LOVE VERSUS COUNTERFEIT LOVE

⁵ The Bible explains that genuine love is shown, “not in word or with the tongue, but in deed and truth.” (1 John 3:18) Does this mean that we cannot express love through our speech? Not at all! (1 Thess. 4:18) Rather, it means that our love must

4. What indicates that imperfect humans are able to show unselfish love?

5. In what ways can we show genuine love?

not be limited to words, especially when the circumstances call for action. For example, when a fellow Christian lacks the basic necessities of life, he needs more than our good wishes. (Jas. 2:15, 16) Similarly, love for Jehovah and our neighbor moves us not only to ask God ‘to send out workers into the harvest’ but also to have a full share in the preaching work.—Matt. 9:38.

⁶ The apostle John wrote that we must love “in deed and truth.” Thus, our love must be “without hypocrisy,” or “free from hypocrisy.” (Rom. 12:9; 2 Cor. 6:6) This means that we cannot show genuine love while pretending to be something that we are not, as if we were wearing a mask. We might wonder, ‘Is there such a thing as love with hypocrisy?’ Not really. This would not be love at all but a worthless imitation.

⁷ Consider some examples of counterfeit love. In the garden of Eden, Satan pretended to be looking out for Eve’s best interests, but his actions were actually selfish and hypocritical. (Gen. 3:4, 5) In David’s day, Ahithophel proved that his friendship with the king was a fraud. Ahithophel turned traitor when he felt that he would gain an advantage. (2 Sam. 15:31) Likewise today, apostates and others who create divisions in the congregation use “smooth talk and flattering speech” to make themselves appear to be loving, but their true motive is selfish.—Rom. 16:17, 18.

6, 7. (a) What is “love free from hypocrisy”? (b) What are some examples of counterfeit love?

⁸ Hypocritical love is especially shameful because it is a counterfeit of the godly quality of self-sacrificing love. Such hypocrisy might fool men, but not Jehovah. In fact, Jesus said that those who are like hypocrites would be punished “with the greatest severity.” (Matt. 24:51) Of course, Jehovah’s servants would never want to display hypocritical love. However, we do well to ask ourselves, ‘Is my love always genuine, not tainted by selfishness or deception?’ Let us consider nine ways we can strive to show love that is “free from hypocrisy.”

HOW TO SHOW “LOVE . . . IN DEED AND TRUTH”

⁹ Be happy to serve in the background. We should be willing to perform acts of love for our brothers

8. What question should we ask ourselves?
 9. What will genuine love move us to do?

“in secret,” or out of the limelight, when this is possible. (Read Matthew 6:1-4.) Ananias and Sapphira failed to do that. Not content to donate anonymously, they blatantly exaggerated their offering and suffered disaster for their hypocrisy. (Acts 5:1-10) In contrast, genuine love moves us to find joy in serving our brothers without fanfare or recognition. For instance, the brothers who support the Governing Body in helping to prepare spiritual food do so anonymously, not drawing attention to themselves or revealing the material they have worked on.

¹⁰ Take the lead in showing honor to others. (Read Romans 12:10.) Jesus set the pattern in honoring others by performing the lowliest of tasks. (John 13:3-5, 12-15) We may have to work hard to develop the humility needed to show honor to others in this way. Even the apostles could not fully understand Jesus’ actions until they received holy spirit. (John 13:7) We can show honor to others by not thinking too much of ourselves because of our education, material possessions, or privileges in Jehovah’s service. (Rom. 12:3) And rather than envying those who receive praise, we rejoice with

10. How can we take the lead in showing honor to others?

Giving to our brothers in need is one way to show our love and hospitality
(See paragraph 12)

them even if we feel that we deserve equal honor or a share of the credit for what was done.

¹¹ Commend your brothers sincerely. We should seize opportunities to commend one another because such expressions are “good for building up.” (Eph. 4:29) However, we must be sincere. Otherwise, we could actually be flattering the person or avoiding our responsibility to provide needed counsel. (Prov. 29:5) To commend someone but then tear him down behind his back is a form of hypocrisy. The apostle Paul avoided that trap and set a fine example in showing genuine love in the way he commended others. For example, he sincerely commended the Christians in Corinth regarding some aspects of their conduct. (1 Cor. 11:2) But when their actions did not deserve commendation, he explained the reason to them kindly and clearly.—1 Cor. 11:20-22.

11. Why must our commendation be sincere?

¹² Be hospitable. Jehovah commands us to be generous toward our brothers and sisters. (Read 1 John 3:17.) Yet, we must do so with a pure motive, avoiding any trace of selfishness. We can ask ourselves: ‘Do I offer hospitality primarily to close friends, prominent ones, or those who might be able to return a favor somehow? Or do I instead look for ways to be generous toward brothers and sisters whom I do not know well or who have nothing with which to repay me?’ (Luke 14:12-14) Or suppose a fellow Christian falls into need because of poor planning or fails to thank us for our hospitality. In such situations, we should apply the counsel: “Be hospitable to one another without grumbling.” (1 Pet. 4:9) If you follow this advice, you will gain the reward of happiness that comes from giving with the right motive.—Acts 20:35.

12. How can we show genuine love when we offer hospitality?

¹³ Support those who are weak. The genuineness of our love can be tested by the Bible’s command to “support the weak, be patient toward all.” (1 Thess. 5:14) Although many who are weak later become strong in the faith, others need our patient, ongoing support. This can include sharing upbuilding Scriptural thoughts, inviting them to join us in the ministry, or just taking time to listen to them. In addition, instead of simply thinking that a brother or a sister is either “strong” or “weak,” we should recognize that we all have strengths and weaknesses. Even the apostle Paul acknowledged his own weaknesses. (2 Cor. 12:9, 10) Thus, we can all benefit from the support of fellow Christians.

¹⁴ Make peace. We do everything in our power to maintain peace with our brothers, even when we feel that we have been misunderstood or treated unfairly. (Read Romans 12:17, 18.) An apology can help to repair hurt feelings, but it must be sincere. For instance, rather than saying, “I’m sorry that you feel that way,” you could admit your role in the problem by saying, “I’m sorry that I hurt you by what I said.” Peace is especially vital in a marriage. A husband and a wife should not pretend to love each other in public but then use the silent treatment, cruel words, or physical violence to hurt each other in private.

¹⁵ Forgive freely. We forgive by pardoning someone who has offended us and by letting go of our resentment toward him. By “putting up with one another in love, earnestly endeavoring to maintain the oneness of the spirit in the uniting bond of peace,” we can freely forgive those who may not

14. How far should we be willing to go to maintain peace with our brothers?

15. How can we show that our forgiveness is genuine?

be aware that they offended us. (Eph. 4:2, 3) For our forgiveness to be genuine, we must control our thinking so that we do “not keep account of the injury.” (1 Cor. 13:4, 5) If we were to harbor resentment or hold a grudge, we would risk permanently damaging our relationship not only with our brother or sister but also with Jehovah. (Matt. 6:14, 15) We can also demonstrate our sincere forgiveness by praying for those who sin against us.—Luke 6:27, 28.

¹⁶ Sacrifice personal advantages. If we receive privileges in Jehovah’s service, we should view these as opportunities to show the genuineness of our love by “seeking, not [our] own advantage, but that of the other person.” (1 Cor. 10:24) For example, at our assemblies and conventions, attendants are on duty in the seating area before others are scheduled to enter. Instead of viewing their assignment as an opportunity to get the best seats for themselves and their families, many of these brothers choose to sit in less favorable seats within their assigned section. By sacrificing their personal advantage in this way, they demonstrate love that is free of any trace of selfishness. How might you imitate their good example?

16. How should we view privileges in Jehovah’s service?

¹⁷ Confess and abandon secret sins. Some Christians who have committed a serious sin try to cover it over in order to avoid embarrassing themselves or disappointing others. (Prov. 28:13) Yet, such a course is unloving, for it harms not only the sinner but also others. It can hinder the flow of God's spirit and threaten the peace of the entire congregation. (Eph. 4:30) Genuine love moves Christians who have committed serious sins to speak to the elders so that the elders can provide the needed help.—Jas. 5:14, 15.

¹⁸ Love is the greatest of all qualities. (1 Cor. 13:13) It identifies us as Jesus' followers and as imitators of Jehovah, the Source of love. (Eph. 5:1, 2) "If I . . . do not have love," wrote Paul, "I am nothing." (1 Cor. 13:2) May we continue to show our love not just "in word" but also "in deed and truth."

17. What will genuine love move a person to do if he has committed a serious sin?

18. How important is genuine love?

100 Receive Them With Hospitality

(Acts 17:7)

1. Jehovah shows sincere hospitality.

He cares for all without partiality.

He gives both rain and sun,

withholding these from none;

He fills our hearts with food and good cheer.

Whenever we show favor to lowly ones,

We imitate our God as beloved sons.

Our Father will repay

the goodness we display,

Our kindness that is truly sincere.

2. We never know the good that may come about

When we see those in need and we help them out.

Though strangers they may be,

in hospitality,

We lend a hand to care for their needs.

Like Lydia of old, we say: 'Be my guest.'

When they come to our home, they find peace and rest.

Our Father is aware of all those ev'rywhere,

Who imitate his merciful deeds.
